Terrie Suit 81st District Delegate

Terrie Suit was elected to the Virginia House of Delegates on November 2, 1999. She represents the 81st district, which includes the southeast portion of Virginia Beach and the portion of Chesapeake south of Great Bridge. Over the past seven years she has used her experience in business, housing, and community service to become an influential member of the Virginia House of Delegates. She resigned in September of 2008.

Delegate Suit chaired the General Laws Committee and was a member of the Counties, Cities and Towns, and the Privileges and Elections committees. Between sessions she chaired the policy-developing Virginia Housing Commission. She has been a leader on many issues important to her district and the Commonwealth, including eminent domain reform, affordable housing, military relations, retention of Oceana Naval Air Station, protections for victims of domestic violence, and environmental remediation. Delegate Suit's outstanding work has led to her appointment as Vice-Chairman for the Communications, Financial Services, and Interstate Commerce Committee for the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Politics is just like show business. You have a hell of an opening, coast for a while, and then have a hell of a close.

Along with her many legislative activities Delegate Suit is an active member of the Hampton Roads community. She serves on the Virginia Beach Contemporary Art Center Board of Trustees; is a board member for the Old Dominion University Alumni Association; and she is not only a long-standing member of the Lead Hampton Roads Board of Trustees, but was elected as their 2007 and 2008 chair.

Terrie is a Navy wife, member of the Navy League of the United States, and grew up the daughter of a career US Army officer.
