Sandy Dumont is a columnist and the author of seven books, including four e-books on the subject of corporate and personal image enhancement and power dressing. Sandy is a "makeover" expert for both individuals and companies. At the Impression Strategies Institute, Sandy offers Diploma Classes in image consultant training.

She began her career as an image consultant in Washington, DC. While living in Brussels, Belgium, Sandy founded Impression Strategies Institute, a consulting company specializing in impression management, image psychology, image consulting, image consultant training, wardrobe consulting and personal branding. Sandy, who is known as The Image Architect, shows clients how to enhance their outward appearance from head to toe, so that they make a powerful impact upon others.

- ◆ International leader in the field of color and image, with 30 years experience

Library Project

* Do you have best sellers on your conservative book shelf gathering dust? Why not pass them on by donating them in the name of the Norfolk Republican Women? With a brand new flagship library opening in Ocean View, there is no time like the present.

* As the new VFRW Unit Achievement Awards Chair for the incoming Board of Directors, I would like to see Norfolk RWC do well in this area. The Mamie Eisenhower Library Project and the Barbara Bush Literacy Programs are key requirements in VFRW & NFRW Unit Achievement Awards.
